Claim reimbursement for your Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

When you use your FSA, you're reimbursed for IRS-qualified medical expenses. Sometimes you need to submit a receipt for this and sometimes you don't.

Reimbursements that require receipts (manual substantiation)

HSA Bank Health Benefits Debit Card

Submit an explanation of benefits (EOB) or a receipt for reimbursement when you paid upfront at the doctor's office but it's not a copay amount, or you paid for an eligible expense at the front retail counter instead of the pharmacy counter, also known as an Inventory Information Approval System (IIAS) register.

Credit card or check

Submit an EOB or a receipt with the Reimbursement Request Form to reimburse yourself for IRS-qualified medical expenses you paid for by credit card or check.

5 receipt must-haves for reimbursement

We can't reimburse you if your receipt doesn't include these details.

Unacceptable receipt This receipt has the amount paid, retailer name and name of person who got the product. It is missing key information: date of expense and description of expense.

Visit hsabank.com or call the number on the back of your debit card for more information.

How to submit receipts

You can do this in four ways: through the HSA Bank Mobile App; through the Member Website; by mail; and by fax. If you got a letter requesting additional information to process your claim, include it with your receipt.

Reimbursements that don't require receipts (auto-substantiation)

This happens when you pay with your debit card in these ways:

At a pharmacy that's IIAS certified – IRS-qualified purchases are immediately verified and your claim shows as paid in the Member Website.

You paid your plan copay upfront at the doctor's office – It's automatically paid.

Your payment is recurring – You need to submit the first receipt with the Automatic Orthodontia Request Form for orthodontic services or the Recurring Dependent Care Request Form for daycare services.

Reminders and tips

Sign up for text or email notifications – Do this on the Member Website so you get transaction alerts.

Watch the mail – We'll send a reminder if we don't get the details we need to process your reimbursement.

Save your receipts - Don't miss out on money that's yours!
