

Educate employees with explainer and presentation videos

With fewer meetings and remote workforces, HR and benefits teams have to rely on digital, mobile and web-based communications more than ever before. To motivate, educate and engage employees, innovative employers are increasing their use of video and multimedia content, text messaging and benefits decision-support tools in their communication strategies.

Flimp offers flexible HR video-production services to fit any budget for open enrollment, financial planning, new-hire benefits, corporate wellness, compensation—virtually any topic. And we make updating your videos easy and cost effective. All include tracking, hosting, multiple distribution options and project management.

HR Benefits Video Library
