Get real solutions for real life with our Employee Assistance Program.

If you’re caring for a parent, spouse or someone else in your life, you’re not alone.

In fact, there are more than 53 million Americans providing care to an adult or child.* With our Employee Assistance Program (EAP), you can get support for the complicated issue of caring for your loved one. You’ll get real solutions from a range of different resources, such as:

- Licensed clinicians to help address your own needs as a caregiver. Consultation available by phone, face-to-face or video-based counseling at no cost
- Legal and financial consultation services
- Resource information for in-home care, companion services, assisted living and skilled nursing facilities with confirmed availability
- Community resources and support groups
- Information on caregiving, home safety, insurance and other concerns
- Self-care strategies that can fit into your busy schedule
- Online resources and tools, e.g., eldercare handbook and Alzheimer’s Education Center
- Geriatric specialist services to assess and develop a geriatric care plan
- Qualified eldercare consultants

 Some programs also include no-cost counseling sessions with network EAP counselors. The available number of no-cost counseling sessions per issue is limited and will depend on the service model purchased by your employer.

Some work/life services offered under the EAP may be provided by a Cigna-contracted third-party vendor.

Employee assistance program services are in addition to, not instead of, your health plan benefits. These services are separate from your health plan benefits and do not provide reimbursement for financial losses. Program availability may vary by plan type and location, and are not available where prohibited by law.
