Breast Cancer Awareness

In 2024, more than 360,000 people will be diagnosed with breast cancer. But there is hope. Advancements in early detection methods and support continue to increase the chances of survival. When caught in its earliest, localized stages, the 5-year relative survival rate of breast cancer is 99%(National Breast Cancer Foundation).

The USPSTF now recommends biennial screening mammography for women aged 40 to 74 years. Women younger than age 40 are recommended to discuss the risks and benefits of earlier screenings with their health care provider.

Mammograms are covered at 100% at an in-network facility for covered members and dependents enrolled on a Powell medical plan. Click here to learn how to detect breast cancer early.
