

GLP-1 Coverage is Changing

Effective January 1, 2027

Important Benefits Reminder

What You Need to Know

If you currently use GLP-1 medication for a diagnosis other than Type 2 diabetes, please be aware of an important upcoming change to your health plan coverage.

Beginning January 1, 2027, GLP-1 medications used for weight loss—or for any diagnosis or use other than Type 2 diabetes—will no longer be covered under the City Anthem PPO and EPO health plans.

GLP-1 coverage will remain available only for members with a Type 2 diabetes diagnosis.

What To Do Now

- ✓ Continue working with Digbi Health if you are currently receiving a GLP-1 medication for a diagnosis other than Type 2 diabetes.
- ✓ Talk with your healthcare provider about your treatment plan and options for 2027.
- ✓ Complete any required reauthorization if contacted by Digbi Health.
- ✓ Plan ahead. Coverage for weight loss GLP-1 medications for members without Type 2 diabetes ends December 31, 2026.

Important To Know

- Current prior authorizations for GLP-1 medications used for weight loss or any non-Type 2 diabetes diagnosis will not carry over into 2027.
- There will be no continuation of existing coverage.
- Members with a Type 2 diabetes diagnosis will continue to have GLP-1 coverage according to their health plan benefits and applicable requirements.

Questions?

Please contact your HR Team with questions about your benefits.

Watch for additional information and reminders throughout the year as we prepare for the January 1, 2027 transition.