WHAT ARAG CAN HELP WITH

EXAMPLES OF COVERED MATTERS, GROUPED BY LIFE EVENT

When you use a network attorney, ARAG pays attorney fees in full for most of the matters below. Where a benefit has an hour limit, it is shown. This is a list of examples, not every covered matter.

Wills and estate planning

- Wills, single or spousal
- Revocable and irrevocable living trusts
- Durable power of attorney and living will or health care directive
- Codicils (changes to a will)
- Estate administration (probate) when you are named executor: up to 9 hours

Home and property

- Buying or selling a home, including a secondary residence: contract review and closing
- Refinancing and home equity loans
- Foreclosure defense
- Neighbor disputes, property tax appeals, zoning and building codes
- Residential contractor disputes
- Tenant matters such as eviction and security deposits

Family

- Adoption, name change, and guardianship
- Child custody, support, and visitation: uncontested paid in full, contested up to 8 hours
- Divorce, legal separation, and annulment: uncontested paid in full, contested up to 30 hours
- Prenuptial, postnuptial, and domestic partnership agreements
- Protective and restraining orders
- School administrative hearings

Money and debt

- Bankruptcy filings
- Defense of debt collection and garnishment
- Student loan debt collection
- Mechanic's liens
- Consumer protection and insurance disputes
- Identity theft legal help

Tickets, license, and court

- Minor traffic tickets (not DWI-related)
- Driving privilege protection and restoration
- Criminal misdemeanor defense (certain charges excluded, including those involving motor vehicles)
- Juvenile court
- Small claims court and defense of civil damage claims

Taxes and more

- IRS audit protection and collection defense
- State and local tax audits and collection defense
- Social Security, Veterans, and Medicare hearings
- Document preparation and review
- Other personal legal matters: up to 10 hours per year

Tax matters apply when the first written notice is received after your coverage begins. Attorney fees are paid in full with a network attorney; costs such as filing fees, copy costs, and mileage are not included.
