PUBLIC SERVICE LOAN FORGIVENESS

cheat sheet

Getting Started

- Ensure you have eligible student loans. You can consolidate older FFEL loans to Direct Loans to make them eligible for PSLF.
- Remember if you consolidate loans you've already made eligible payments on, you start from zero on 120 payments.
- Enroll in an eligible repayment plan. You can change your repayment plan by applying online at fsa.gov or by contacting your student loan servicer.

Public Service Loan Forgiveness Form

- Completing this form allows you to double check you're employed by an eligible employer
- Completing this form annually is a best practice in pursuit of PSLF

Stay on Track

- Re-submit your income information annually to remain on an eligible income-driven repayment plan
- Check your progress with FedLoan Servicing annually to make sure you're counting the same number of eligible payments made toward PSLF and to identify any problems early

- Ten Year Standard Repayment plan (nothing will be left over to be forgiven)

FAQ

Q: What does it take to get loans forgiven under PSLF?

A: You need to work for an eligible employer, have federal Direct Loans, and make 120 months worth of qualifying payments on a qualifying repayment plan.

Q: How do I know if I'm in "eligible employment"?

A: Complete & submit the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Form (PSLF Form) You can find the PSLF Form here <https://studentaid.gov/sites/default/files/public-service-application-for-forgiveness.pdf>

Q: What are the eligible repayment plans & how can I switch?

A: There are four eligible income-driven repayment plans; Income-based Repayment (IBR), Pay As You Earn (PAYE), Revised Pay As You Earn (REPAYE) and Income-contingent Repayment (ICR). You switch plans by contacting your student loan servicer & completing the Income Driven Repayment Request Form <https://studentloans.gov/myDirectLoan/ibrInstructions.action>

Q: What student loans are eligible for forgiveness under PSLF?

A: Only Federal Direct Loans are eligible for forgiveness. Private loans (including refinanced loans) are totally ineligible. FFEL loans are also ineligible but can become eligible by consolidating to a Direct Consolidation Loan.

Q: How do I consolidate my student loans?

A: Consolidation is best for student loans that aren't eligible unless they're consolidated (FFEL, Perkins, Parent PLUS, etc). If you consolidate eligible loans you've made qualifying payments on the repayment clock starts over and you'll have to make another 120 payments. To consolidate you will need to complete a Direct Consolidation Loan Application <https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/repay-loans/consolidation#how-apply>

Q: How do I apply for PSLF?

A: Once you've made 120 qualifying payments on eligible student loans while working in eligible employment you can apply for PSLF using the PSLF Form <https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/sites/default/files/public-service-application-for-forgiveness.pdf>
